79th Season of classical concerts

This season of concerts by some of the very best professional musicians playing in the UK will all take place on SUNDAY evenings at 7.30pm in the exceptional acoustics of St John's Church, Keswick CA11 4DD. The Keswick Music Society committee is very appreciative of the support from the St John's Church community that is enabling concerts to be held on Sunday evenings, as they used to be for many years.

This season's exciting programme of chamber music features an incredible array of musical talent and a wide variety of orchestral instruments: something for everyone to enjoy including violins, viola, cellos, double bass, oboe, clarinets, bassoon, bass clarinet, French horn and saxophone. Along with our wonderful piano in four of the concerts.

Seats for all individual concerts (£20) can be booked directly from Keswick Music Society via our website www.keswick-music-society.org or purchased in person from Bookends Bookshop in Keswick. Tickets will also always be available on the door.

But it pays to purchase a subscription to all six concerts and become a member. With the discount you effectively get one concert free. In addition, Keswick Music Society members can also receive a £5 discount on all individual concert tickets of the Penrith, Cockermouth and Carlisle Music Societies. So, if you like listening to live, high quality, classical music locally in Cumbria it really is worth becoming a member.

Please do take a look at the website www.keswick-music-society.org for more information about all these concerts, and about our future plans to regularly bring classical music to audiences in Keswick.
